Extraordinary Female Footrace

[Chihuahua Correspondence New York Herald]

Among the Tarahumares the foot racing is a favorite diversion and even the women compete in the lists At times a great rivalry springs up between the adjoining towns of some districts as to the relative merits of the contestants Within a month a rivalry of this kind between the two villages of Bacoina and Besoguiche gave rise to the most famous foot race on record Four of the fastest women from each town were selected and accompanied to an intermediate point between the towns where there was an oblong mountain three Mexican leagues around it by measurement of the road, around this it was at palated that the race was to take place, the prize to be conceded to those who made the quickest time in running around the mountain fourteen times—a distance at the least of one hundred English miles At fixed points within the circumference of the mountain guards were stationed who were to see that the race was contested with fairness The whole population of the surrounding country had assembled with whatever they could collect of value, that they might have the opportunity of betting something upon the result which was to bring shame or honor on the rival villages They were also sufficiently civilized to have a large share of the intoxicating drink—the Tezuino

As the eight athletic creatures took their places at the starting point the excitement ran high, they were, like the old Roman athletes, stripped for the contest, the only garment worn being a short petticoat, which reached within six inches of the knee Our informant who stopped his travels for a day to witness this novel race, was struck with the magnificent development of muscle displayed by a swarthy looking belle, whose petticoat was a little shorter than the rest and he forthwith bet his pile on Sesoguiche There were other finely developed creatures in the list, but none whose clean limbs, hard looking flesh and apparent gutta percha elasticity of motion drew so vividly upon his imagination, and so powerfully upon his purse

The whole bevy were off at the word go, amid the wildest excitement, and the betting commenced The time was six o'clock and thirty-five minutes in the morning The first, second, third, fourth, and even the fifth turn was completed without any great advantage on either side, but during the next five turns it was evident that, with the exception of the four belle above mentioned, Sesoguiche was losing ground She, however, kept breast and breast with two wiry creatures from Bacoina At the twelfth turn of the mountain all but the three here mentioned dropped from the track The multitude was now pretty well soaked with Tezuina, and the betting ran to the wildest extremities, every one who had any thing of value staked it on the race—horse, plows and other agricultural implements horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, goats, oats hogs, and whatever else there was of value, changed hands The men bet their clothes, while the women staked their petticoats All was a wild uproar, and the Derby sweepstakes were nowhere

The thirteenth turn was made, but it was evident that the Sesoguiche belle was getting out of wind, and after all had not so much bottom as the wiry contestants from Bacoina But she was not far behind, and although Bacoina took the prize, it was not a matter for much boasting

The two women from the latter town were received with the loudest shouts of joy by their townspeople They had finished the race at eight o'clock in the evening, making the whole distance, one hundred miles, in thirteen hours and twenty five minutes by the watch of our informant One of the two Bacoina women who won the race had given birth to a child only ten days before, and prepared herself for the contest by bandaging her breasts The only stops made during the time by the contestants for the prize were either to take a little water or eat frugally of pinole—a simple gruel made of parched corn, ground and sweetened with sugar By the time the race was concluded nearly every Indian on the ground was drunk.

BELLIGERENT RIGHTS.—Referring to the great blunder made by the British Government when it recognized the rebels as having the rights of belligerents, and to its further blunder of permitting them to fit out armed vessels in English ports to prey upon American commerce, the London Star of a late date says:

"If the United States and the world at large accepted the doctrine which the English Minister laid down, then a long farewell to our maritime greatness The whole course of international progress in questions relating to the safety of non belligerent vessels on the high seas would be reversed Doctrines which were held sacred even before the days of Lord Stowell would be desecrated by a villainous principle of which we were the apologizers and abettors Privateering, in place of being on the wane, would usurp the place of naval warfare, piracy would once more rear its head as a respectable institution, and the burning of merchant vessels, with the theft of their chronometers, come to be recognized among the noblest feats of modern heroes We know that what to the United States was not much more than an inconvenience, would be to us destruction Our national life depends upon the freedom and security of the seas The best interests of the whole nation lie in a stringent interpretation of the duties of neutrals, and the exaction of reparation when by negligence or connivance, armed ships escape from neutral ports to prey upon the commerce of belligerents"

THE CONGRESSIONAL TEMPERANCE MEETING—SPEECH BY SENATOR YATES.—A Washington dispatch of February 17th says

The first meeting of the Congressional Temperance Society was held to night in Representative Hall The galleries were densely crowded Senator Wilson presided

Representative Price of Iowa said he had never witnessed a scene like that before him of so much brilliancy and so full of interest.

The Chairman next introduced in compliment ary terms, Senator Yates of Illinois Yates said he had signed the pledge for good and he had made his covenant with God some months before When he signed the pledge, he raised himself to his full hight, for he was free Although he had considered himself a moderate drinker, it was published throughout the land that he was a drunkard. There was some truth and error in this he had the failing when drunk of letting everybody know it his speeches were not frequent but long and loud The great commonwealth of Illinois had for twenty five years honored him in all public positions and he had now promised that State and all who loved him, Kate and the children that he would never more touch, taste, or handle the unclean thing He intended to fight it out on that line till the last hour of his existence In conclusion he read a cheering and joyous letter from his wife in response to the good news that he had signed a pledge, which moved many in the audience to tears

Several others addressed the meeting, and in response to calls from the audience the pledge was read and names signed embracing a number of Senators and Representatives

A PROPOSITION AND A RESPONSE.—The Oregonian has published the following response to a "cheeky" proposition it has received

We have received a prospectus of the Oregon Herald with a foot note saying that one or two insertions in our paper will entitle us to an exchange with the Daily We cannot do any thing else but decline this generous proposition We get the daily OREGONIAN a paper far superior in everything that makes a news sheet available It is the first paper in the State as regards politics trade locals telegraph and State news and general reading matter We can confidently assert the Herald's claims of superiority to the contrary notwithstanding that by the OREGONIAN we can keep thoroughly posted as to matters in Northern Oregon We however have this proposition to make, that as long as the Herald publishes the prospectus of the Statesman as a standing advertisement it will be entitled to a copy of our paper in exchange

A gawky lad while being interrogated on the witness stand in a Justice of the Peace's office in Columbus, Ohio recently became disgusted with his legal questioners put on his hat, declared "it as all foolishness," shuffled off from the room and mounted his horse that stood near at hand, and made good his escape, though hotly pursued by several constables

By Overland Telegraph.

The Coming Presidential Election

The States now represented in Congress will throw 247 electoral votes in the next Presidential election If the ten rebel States not now represented shall, before the election, be brought into their proper relations with the General Government, they will be entitled to 70 electoral votes swelling the number to a total of 317 Of the electoral votes of the States now actually in existence as such, one hundred and twenty four is therefore a majority If reconstruction be complete by November, 1868, one hundred and fifty nine electoral votes will be required to constitute a majority of the whole college Let us inquire into the probabilities of the result of the next election under each of these conditions

It is pretty evident that whether the ten rebel States vote or not, the chances are largely in favor of the Union party If those States do not vote, it will only be necessary, as above shown, for that party to secure 124 votes to carry the election It is absolutely certain that it can secure more than this number The six New England States are entitled to thirty-nine votes, and there is no possibility of losing one of them except perhaps Connecticut. This State has but six votes, so that in any event, the Union party must obtain thirty three electoral ballots in New England Pennsylvania has twenty six which are equally sure The States of California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia and Wisconsin will be entitled to 112 votes The elections of last fall showed that the strength of the Union party in most of these States was much greater than in 1864, and there can hardly be a doubt that the same party will carry them triumphantly next year The electoral votes of the States above mentioned number, in the aggregate, are one hundred and seventy-one. Thus it will be seen that unless the ten revolted States comply with the law of Congress and regain their former place in the Union before the election, the opponents of the Union party have not the shadow of a chance to elect a President. Their chances will be little better if they have the aid of the ten quasi States.

The Democrats of course rely on carrying the ten rebel States with their seventy votes. They will also carry Kentucky, which has eleven votes, and may possibly succeed in Tennessee, gaining ten more. Maryland and Delaware, having ten votes, may also be conceded to them. The only Northern States in which there is promise of anything like a contest are New York, Connecticut, Nebraska and Oregon. These States will cast a total of forty five votes. If we concede all these to the opposition they will then have an aggregate of only one hundred and forty six votes, while the Union Republicans will have one hundred and seventy-one, or a majority of twenty five. But it is most improbable that the Democrats will carry either Tennessee, New York, Connecticut, Nebraska or Oregon. In all of these States the chances are largely in our favor. But conceding as the very best that the opposition can do that they will secure them and fourteen of the late slave States, they will fall far short of a triumph Besides the States above mentioned, we might concede to them New Jersey and California, and still beat them.

It is therefore as absolutely certain as any future event can be that the Union-Republican party will succeed in the Presidential election next year. If it carries New York, as it is almost sure to do, its victory will be overwhelming It is all important to choose a true man for a candidate for the first office, and an imperative duty not to commit the blunder of offering a prize for assassination by choosing a man of questionable integrity for the office of Vice-President.

Party Degeneracy.

Evidences accumulate of the demoralization of the "white man's party." The chivalry have set themselves at work in earnest to control the negro vote, and the dirt-eating Democracy of the North applaud their conduct and urge them to renewed efforts. An Oregon Copperhead paper which in times past has drawn many a picture of the hideousness of "negro equality," is now of opinion that this monstrous thing will not prove the degradation of the white race, and thinks its political friends in the South "would be very stupid" to allow the negro vote to be used against them, when by judicious management and friendly intercourse, social and political, with the blacks, it can be turned in their own favor. This is to be the key note of the Democratic policy in future Negro equality has wholly lost the hideous features in which it was the wont of these feeble imitators of an effete aristocracy to portray it The discovery is made that since the blacks have obtained the ballot, it is not at all derogatory to the character of high-minded gentlemen to associate with them, at least so far as to solicit their votes, to sit with them in conventions, and to accompany them to the polls The rebel Democratic party of Tennessee has called a State Convention, and has invited the negroes to participate with them Truly, evidences are multiplying of the total demoralization of the "white man's party" The time has actually come when a Democrat is no "better than a nigger" The "white man's party" recognizes and accepts this state of things, and one of its most pretentious organs declares that it would be "very stupid" in its party not to do so. We have probably heard the last of that withering rhetoric which for years has been fulminated against the "Black Republicans,"—denouncing them as being in favor of negro equality, and all the similar monstrosities of the times The Democrats have gone into the negro equality business, and some of them express the hope that they will be able to succeed in it far better than their opponents have ever done. They expect to command the black vote, and to accomplish this object they scout their old prejudices and brave the fearful dangers, as they once thought them, of social and political contamination. Who are the "negro worshippers" now?

The Legislature of Nevada has been convened in special session by Executive proclamation, to devise ways and means for providing a revenue for the purposes of State government The Governor in his special message says that unless this is done, "the faith of the State must be broken, its honor and credit destroyed and the administration of its government seriously embarrassed, if not entirely obstructed"

The Secretary of State chooses none but Copperhead papers as the Government organs in California. The San Francisco Examiner and the Sacramento Express have been designated by the Secretary as the "official organs" for that State So the Administration is not singular in rewarding the Copperheads and Secessionists of Oregon The same thing is done in every other State

ST. LOUIS —This city has a population of 205,000. There were 9,280 deaths there last year, or one death to every 22 persons

The Prussian Government is announced as having put in execution a system of espionage over the mails, and in this way has taken out of them various American papers addressed to Americans now in Prussia The alleged cause of this is that these papers contain real or fancied reflections on Prussian policy France and Spain have been guilty of this petty spite for some time past, and that it has long been the practice in England is notorious.

PLOWS —The largest plow factory in the world is said to be that at Louisville, Kentucky. Since 1860 this factory has sent out over 200,000 plows. It employs 125 men and uses each year 1,000,000, 000 feet of lumber, 2 000 tons of pig iron, 65 tons of wrought iron for clevises, 24 tons of bolts, and 25,000 bushels of coal. The receipts from the sales of last year were $232,000.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says that tunneling in Gold Hill is still progressing with good prospects of success. The ledge has been struck again and the miners are running a shaft from the tunnel to the surface, a distance of one hundred and twenty feet

Mrs William Butler of Jackson county was severely burned a few days since She was sitting by the fire went to sleep and fell from her chair into the fire Her face and breast were badly burned, and three fingers on her left hand will have to be amputated

From Dr Osborn of Kirbyville Josephine county the Sentinel learns the following strange facts Mrs Miller, of Browntown, Josephine county had been complaining for sixteen years of a burning sensation and at times, an almost unbearable distress in the stomach After a thorough diagnosis Dr Osborn decided that there was a living animal in the stomach The patient was treated for eight days on a diet of salt An emetic was then administered and repeated at short intervals for three-quarters of an hour, when a lizzard and a worm were evacuated from the stomach The lizzard was of the red species, 2½ inches long nearly white partaking of the mucous of the stomach The same correspondent writes that the worm is of a species with which he is not acquainted, never having seen anything of the kind before It is three inches long flat, about three lines (three-twelfths of an inch) in width, and one-eighth of an inch in thickness, jointed and resembles the tape worm Mrs Miller is now relieved from the hearings and all other distress of the stomach and fast recovering—has a clear complexion and is cheerful Mr H Miller, (the lady's husband) Mr Thomas Carr and lady, and Mr M Chitwood were present at the time the reptiles were vomited up.

The following is related by the Jacksonville Sentinel We were sitting in the telegraph office a few evenings since chatting with the operator, when he suddenly called our attention to an unusual performance of the instruments. "There," said he is music. Listen! A close attention to the sounds disclosed the fact that some musical gentleman was imitating Paganini, and the performance with a single key and a single string, was excellent Here came "Dixie" tripping and throbbing over the wire, so correctly that we imagined that we were in "the land of cotton" listening to that popular air Without disclosing himself, our musical friend responded to the call for "Yankee Doodle" as an antidote to rebel music — Here it came, reminding us of the land of pumpkin pies and rosy cheeked damsels—then a gem from "Norma" —then the ermatic genius "dreamed that he dwelt in marble halls," and told us of the pleasant hours in his "Cottage by the Sea," as plainly and correctly as it could have been done on a musical instrument, it was a wonderful performance and set us to thinking how little the world realizes of Morse's grand discovery After interrupting himself to stir the fire, the performer wound up the evening's entertainment with Old Grimes," and told us he did not live more than a six months' journey from Yreka.

The following is an extract from a letter dated 'Grant's Pass, Jackson County" March 21st and published in the Sentinel. While the excitement is exalting the public mind, respecting the discoveries made in this part of Jackson county, I have concluded to drop you a few lines for publication, which I believe to be reliable It has long been known that gold existed on a stream called Jump-off Joe in this county and occasionally pockets were found that paid very well, but nothing to create any excitement. Last fall a German, by the name of H Wines started in to prospect the creek higher up than any work had been done before, the result was that the further up he went, the better he found the pay till at last he concluded he was doing well enough and put him up a cabin After doing which, he went to work on his claim which proved as I am credibly informed, to be good ounce diggings. Mr Wines tried the creek in several places with the same success In a gulch putting into the main creek he worked several days with a rocker, which paid him about five or six dollars per day Other parties are now taking up it in all along the creek Mr Seaton located a claim on the creek, below Mr Wines claim He sank a small hole to prospect it, and washed out, in a pan one piece that weighed thirteen dollars, and several dollars in fine gold Another hole, sunk in another part of the claim satisfies him that he has good ounce diggings How extensive the pay region may be, it is impossible to tell, as the creek is several miles long, and there is so much snow on the ground that it prevents any great amount of work being done at present The location of this new mining camp, which has already received the name of Wines Camp, is about fifteen miles up the creek from where the Oregon road crosses Jump-off-Joe, at Wm Gibson's.

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT CHAS B McLANE,
WM C RALSTON A HAYWARD
LOUIS A CARNETT

LOUIS A CARNETT President and Manager
JOHN HEWSTON Jr Chemist and Superintendent

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works and introduced many other important improvements are prepared to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public is considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and accords to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the mining and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One eighth of one per cent. (bars before a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000 and two dollars for any smaller sum Returns made in twenty four hours

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained up to $1,000, and one-eighth of one per cent for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent on the silver contained Returns made in twenty four hours

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce
On bullion from 300@600 parts gold 4 cents per ounce
On bullion from 600@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce
On bullion from 750@900½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at its assay rate customary at the Mint

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 300@600 parts gold 5 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 600@760 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 760@820 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 820@940½ parts gold 14 cents per ounce

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same

Comparing the net value of deposits for assays, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming the bars have cost ½ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

850 per to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
845 per to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.
855 per to equal San Francisco Assay & Refining Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents mh1d2p3m

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

THE UNDERSIGNED CALLS THE ATTENTION of smokers to the celebrated

PATENT DOUBLE-TUBE PIPES

Which he is now importing and which are recommended to all smokers Its peculiar merit consists in the use of TWO TUBES the one for the smoke alone and the other for the passage of the saliva, and the nicotine to the cup at the bottom whence it is discharged The smoke being thus kept clear of contact with the saliva, is always delicious and pure in its odor and the collected matter which renders all other pipes offensive being entirely retained, the pipe will always continue sweet and agreeable It gives to the smoke the pure exhalation of the tobacco free from the noxious nicotine it possesses merits never before obtained in a pipe

A leading eastern journal says of this pipe "Its merits are incontestably proved by the fact that it is permanently superceeding all others in use."

Another great advantage in this pipe is that the smoker can readily take it to pieces If the draught becomes obstructed you can withdraw the stem and so open the upper tube of the bowl with the tampying if of tobacco

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN,—full and reliable news from the Mines, and the most complete commercial information published by any paper in the State

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon, and in the particulars of Commercial Statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable and more especially in matters pertaining to Oregon and Washington Territory.

Single copies 12½ cents or $3 00 per year to any part of the United States or British Columbia.

A NEW AVENUE OF COMMERCE.—The late inauguration of the China mail line, the return of the Colorado and the incidents connected with her first round trip have attracted very general attention to the profitable results of the new and newly forged commercial link with the East. The San Francisco Times of the 23d speaking of these matters in a commercial point of view says "As an initial voyage it is regarded as eminently successful. Her outward list of passengers consisting of over two hundred—one hundred and thirty in the cabin and eighty in the steerage—with a return of one hundred of the former and seventy eight of the latter class, and a very considerable freight both ways That both the passenger and carrying traffic will speedily increase admits of no question, since with many of the commodities entering into this trade, expeditious transportation is of the first importance, while many Europeans visiting China or Japan, or resident therein will choose this as a route of travel in preference to any other, it being evidently the shortest, cheapest and most healthful, all of which advantages must be measurably increased when the transcontinental railroad comes to be completed Indeed this completion of mail service across the Pacific is but the beginning of a commerce vast in extent beyond the conception of the present age, since it will eventually serve not only divert over this route the entire trade of eastern and southern Asia, but greatly facilitate the further opening of the long-sealed empires of China and Japan and the establishment of social and diplomatic intercourse between those nations and these peoples so long estranged from the rest of the world * * * But the more feat of their being brought in contact with our people will force these nations into trade and reciprocal dealings, since this will be necessary as a measure of policy and self-defense. Already considerable orders exist to be filled in this city by the authorities of Japan for improved fire-arms, ordnance and other implements of warfare have been filled, and as these officials become more sensible of their inferiority in these and other respects, and consequent liability to cope with foreign enemies, it is only reasonable to suppose these requisitions upon our work-shops and armories will become more extensive and frequent. The Government of Japan are now owners of a steam war built abroad, having been compelled to procure this ship that they might successfully defend themselves against similar vessels employed by their enemies. In like manner steamers for the purposes of commerce, light draft boats for the navigation of their inland waters, machinery for driving machinery, hoisting and pumping works at their mines and for various other objects will be required, orders for which in most cases will come to this city, where they can be executed at as small an outlay of time and expedition than anywhere else After the demand for agricultural implements shall be supplied, a thousand other labor saving inventions, originated with demands for breadstuffs and the products of the soil, thereby imparting a stimulus to other branches of industries, adding largely to our industrial wealth and public revenues."

TWENTY TONS.—We clip the following items from the Vancouver Register: The public school in this place closed on Friday of this week The teachers, Messrs Lyle and Hathaway, reported the average attendance to be 37 The whole number of scholars having been 157 Of these girls and 93 were boys. The Base Ball playing field exercise several times each week Much interest in their sports is evinced by the boys of the Club ... The citizens of this place, favorably disposed to the establishment of a High School or Seminary by the Methodist Church last Saturday evening and on Monday by electing Guy Hayden Chairman and S W Moore Secretary Mr. S B Whipple on the part of the Trustees, on Subscription, reported about $1,000 The following persons, viz: R W Moore, J K O Burgen, Rev. H. L. O Struve and S B. Whipple were appointed a committee to procure suitable rooms and engage for the opening of the school The committee on behalf of the movement feel assured of sufficient support to justify the employment of a competent principal assistant at once; and will proceed to do so, as soon as they can find the proper persons John Smith, the individual who had been indicted for a misdemeanor with the intent to kill Mrs Sherman, at Olympia, was placed on trial in the District Court for Thurston County, but the jury failed to agree, there being nine for conviction and three obstinate and contrary men, who voted for his acquittal The prosecuting attorney then entered a nolle prosequi as to the intent to kill, and the prisoner pleaded guilty to assault and battery The Court thereupon sentenced him to six months imprisonment in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs, and to remain committed until fine and costs were paid. The fine was paid to the extent of the law.

MAJOR-GENERAL.—Major Foster has been ordered to San Francisco to relieve temporarily Col Taylor, Chief Commissary of the Military Division of the Pacific Surgeon Kinyon, U S A., heretofore stationed at San Francisco, has been relieved from duty in charge of the Department of the Columbia to assume the duties of the Medical Department as Director vice Surgeon C. S. Ten Brook Captain Eckerson, A. Q. M. has been ill for some time and is consequently unable to do duty. It is very probable, that he will be relieved from the service, at least until his health is restored. We sincerely regret the continued illness of Captain E. as an officer experienced and able officer A general Court Martial is still in session at the post engaged in the trial of several military offenders Companies I and K of the 9th United States Infantry arrived at this post on the steamer Wednesday This will complete the organization of that Regiment They will shortly be sent to Camp Lapwai in the upper country.—Vancouver Reg

NEW APPLES.—Just at present, the market in San Francisco is full of Oregon apples is down The last two or three days have carried down large amounts of varieties that were forced to go upon the market at once, because they had already been rather overkept The large supply and the bad condition of many of them, naturally enough has kept prices pretty flat. Lots sent by the Idaho, were quoted $2@3 50 as extreme. One lot of Wine-sape and Green Newton Pippins, in fair condition sold for $1 20 per box. The market must be allowed to be cleared before prices can again be realized The quotations by the Express of the 22d, which we copied yesterday must have been for prime lots of extra keepers But few of sales of apples by the last steamers, do not bring such figures as the Bulletin gives

THE DRAMA.—To-night is the last of the Tanner troupe at the Metropolitan Mr. Tanner stated to the audience last night that owing to continued ill health he has been unable to produce the pieces advertised—as he was cast in the principal character He thanked the public for the liberal patronage they had given, but said it was inadequate to enable him to give satisfaction as he desired A general benefit will be given to-night as a closing performance The charming and versatile Miss Soledad Rosa, Miss Juanita, O'Neil, Graham Dubryan, Mr. J. W. Wilkinson, etc, will appear in favorite acts, songs and burlesques. A crowd will probably attend.

SHEEP.—Three pairs of sheep were landed yesterday from the Idaho, to Jas Keyes Junton county were unable to learn of what breed they were, but they were very large fine sheep and with rather extraordinary wool, for length One pair which we examined had wool nearly or quite ten inches long on the sides, but of course, while another pair had fine wool of about six or nine inches in length

REPORT AT THE COLUMBIA BAR.—We are informed that Pilot, acting under the direction of J C. Carter, U S Inspector, is now at Astoria making the preliminary arrangements for re-anchoring the buoys in the channel of the Columbia river, in pursuance of orders issued by the Light House Board, at Washington, January 25th The work will be completed at the earliest possible day

AN OFFENSIVE MOOD.—Mr A Hinman lately appointed Collector at Astoria, is reported to have said concerning the matter upon hearing of his appointment that, Mr Corbett has probably procured me the place; if so he has done it without my knowledge or consent, but I am willing to forgive him

HARNESS AND SADDLERY.—S. Sherlock & Co have on hand a very large and fine assortment of saddles, harness and all the minor articles which belong to a complete establishment of that kind They make a specialty of the manufacture of coach, wagon and carriage harness Read their advertisement this morning

CIGARS.—Don't fail to read the new advertisement of Wasserman & Co If they haven't got a large stock of A No. 1 tobacco, cigars, Yankee notions and fancy goods, nobody in town has. And they are selling goods that cannot fail to please all their customers Give them a call at 77 Front street

HOW RECKLESSLY INJURED.—None of the parties in the runaway buggies of Thursday afternoon on the McAlam road, were seriously injured There were some bruises but nothing worse The runaways were purely accidental.

WHITEWATER FRIENDS.—Arrived per steamer Alert Friday, March 29th. 3 cases mdse 34 gunnies bacon 28 bbls produce, 4 cans lard 10 boxes do 1 500 gr sks flour, 1 keg, 7 boxes produce 100 boxes apples 3 bales woolen goods.

A Mystery.

The Southern, Oregon Press relates the following "mysterious story :"

Some two weeks ago a couple of "tramps"—a man and a woman—each with a large carpet sack in hand, passed through the valley from the north. At Willow Springs they stopped at the store of Mr. Jacobs to rest themselves. On inquiry they informed Mr. Jacobs that they walked all the way from Portland, being unable to pay stage fare, and were on their way to California. The woman, who was tall for her sex, was, apparently, comfortably clothed, but her husband was not so well off, his toes peeping out of his boots and various other evidences of poverty manifesting themselves. Mr. Jacobs, commiserating his travel-worn condition, generously furnished him with a pair of new shelters for his pedals, and the couple went on their way rejoicing. Before proceeding far however, they stopped at a saloon and there called for a bottle of wine, cigars, etc., spending for these luxuries, as we are informed, some three or four dollars, and having, as it seems, many dollars left. On hearing of this luxurious extravagance, Mr. Jacobs felt slightly "sold" and was rather indignant, but by that time the loving couple were on their way to Jacksonville, where they arrived that evening and put up at the Franco-American. Here they represented themselves as a couple in search of employment, and desirous of taking charge of the culinary and dining room duties at just such an establishment as they were stopping at. The hostess having experienced considerable difficulty in securing the right kind of help, thought this a first rate opportunity, and made arrangements with the couple to take charge—the woman of the kitchen and the man of the dining room; they to enter on the discharge of their duties the following day. Her old "helps" were discharged, and the hostess retired for the night in high spirits in anticipation of the success of her new arrangement. In the morning, however, at the usual early breakfast hour, some of the boarders arrived, and were rather astonished to find the dining room bold—no fire in the stove. After waiting some time in expectation of the appearance of some one to cater to their appetites, and no one appearing, they became somewhat impatient and clamored for breakfast. The hostess got up and proceeded to the kitchen, expecting that the beginners, fatigued with their long journey, had overslept themselves; but on entering the factory of soups and sauces, behold! the "range" was cold, and no one to be seen. On proceeding to the bed chamber of the couple, they were found to be non est. It transpired after awhile that these itinerants had been seen starting out before it was quite day—carpet bags in hand, but in what direction no one knew. Madame was, of course, compelled to induce her former employees to resume work, and now that everything is again going along smoothly, it would prove quite a task for any one to convince Madame that a "bird in hand is not worth two in the bush."

But now we will follow our couple of tramps, and the sequel will verify the principle of the old adage, that "all that glitters is not gold." Mr. Colwell, the stage driver between this and Kirbyville, informs us that the couple of itinerants in question peregrinated between this place and Crescent City, stopping over night at different places along the road, and at each place assuming a new character and a different object and termination in their pilgrimage. We should have stated heretofore that the talking was all done by the husband, who seemed to be quite a linguist, speaking French, Spanish, and English fluently, as well as being a perfect master of the Irish brogue. The wife, on the other hand, was remarkably bashful and taciturn. At Kirbyville he (the husband) represented himself to be a French physician who had met with misfortunes, and was desirous of securing a first practice somewhere. French Pete, who was his semblant, was induced to hunt up a house in the neighborhood for the new practitioner, which he succeeded in doing, and returned to inform his new friends of his success, but only in time to learn that they had started out, carpet bags in hand, immediately after his departure in search of a house. When last heard from they were somewhere beyond Sailor Diggings, on their way, as they informed the last person with whom they came in contact, to San Francisco. It also appears that during Pete's absence in search of a house, some inquisitive individual made the astounding discovery—Oh, horror!—that the creature in female habiliments was a man. How it was found out deponeth sayeth not, but the fact is generally believed as immediately thereafter the party "mizzled." Of course, the various parties that have been victimized by them will like to hear that they were not alone gulled—that the sell was a pretty general one. But the question arises, what induced them to travel in that style and in assumed characters? The sole (lie in breeches) was smart and intelligent; what the qualifications of the other were is not known, except his remarkable stillness of tongue was enough in itself to contradict the assumed character he bore. They had plenty of means and suffered for nothing in their travels. Can any one unravel the mystery?

Case of Spontaneous Combustion.

[From the Indianapolis Sentinel, February 16th.]

We are indebted to Dr. H. L. Whiteside, dentist, of this city, for the particulars of a most singular and appalling catastrophe that occurred yesterday morning in the town of Columbus, about forty miles south of this city, on the Madison Railroad. About eight o'clock the attention of some citizens on the street were attracted to the liquor shop of a German by the name of Andrew Nolte, by a light smoke issuing from it. He had long been known to be a very intemperate man, and recently—it was supposed in consequence of his wife leaving him, and applying for a divorce on account of his confirmed drunkenness—more constantly and beastly drunk than usual. On entering, they found him lying dead upon the counter, upon a board which was used to keep his feet off the wet floor, with his head near a whiskey barrel. His clothes were still burning. His lips had been entirely burned away, leaving a ghastly hole, in which his tongue was seen burned to a crisp, as was the inside of his mouth and his throat. His nose was also burned, as if by fire coming out of his nostrils. The remainder of the body was scorched where the burning clothes had touched, but showed no other indication of fire. The hands were drawn up to the mouth, as if to close it or shut off some dreaded thing from it. There was no fire in the room that Dr. Whiteside could see, and certainly none near the horrible corpse.

A revolver was found beside it, but all the charges were in it, and no marks of injuries, except from the fire, were discovered, so that the death could not have been caused by suicide. But if it had been, the lips burned entirely off and the unburned tongue, throat and nose would have been still more inexplicable, as the fire was manifestly of recent occurrence—the clothes still burning—and it could not have been applied after death by some other person, without detection, or some mark or other that would indicate where the fire came from and how it was used. But if it could have been thus applied, it is impossible to believe that it was, for there could be no motive to burn a dead man, especially about the mouth and nose. The same fact of the singular character and locality of the burning, involving only the air passages, precludes all idea of a death by violence. No murderer or robber would try to kill a man by setting him on fire, or if he should, he would not and could not put fire to his mouth and nose only. No hypothesis of murder seems to be tenable, and that of suicide is even more absurd. We must therefore conclude that the death was caused by spontaneous combustion, or by the burning of inflammable gases, generated in the whiskey-rotten carcass, and escaping the lungs and air passages. This might have been caused by an attempt to light a cigar with a match or other flame. There are several authenticated cases of spontaneous combustion on record, as our physicians know. Dickens has cited a few in justification of the incident which forms so frightful a scene of his "Bleak House"—but we question if a more clearly marked case than this at Columbus has ever occurred. We may note that he had a soldier's blouse, a flannel undershirt, and cotton overshirt, and that his hair was not burned.

AN ECCENTRIC DIVINE.—The Rev. Zeb Twitchell was the most noted Methodist preacher in Vermont for shrewd and laughable sayings. In the pulpit he maintained a suitable gravity of expression, but out of the pulpit he overflowed with fun. Occasionally he would, if emergency required it, introduce something queer in a sermon for the sake of arousing the flagging attention of his hearers. Seeing that his audience was getting sleepy, he paused in his discourse and discussed as follows:

"Brethren, you haven't any idea of the suffering of our missionaries in the new settlements on account of the mosquitoes. The mosquitoes in some of those regions are enormous. A great many of them would weigh a pound, and they will get on logs and bark when the missionaries are going along.

By this time all eyes and ears were open, and he proceeded to finish his discourse.

The next day one of his congregation called him to account for telling lies in the pulpit.

"There never was a mosquito that would weigh a pound," he said

"But I didn't say one of them would weigh a pound, I said a great many, and I think a million would."

"But you said they barked at the missionaries."

"No, brother, I said they would get on logs and bark."

THE CHINESE TELEGRAPH.—Writing upon the subject of the telegraph in China, the Shanghae Recorder remarks:

"No doubt the utmost subtlety of the Chinese will be exerted to prevent its introduction, and every argument will be used to induce the United States Minister to conclude that Dr. Mautowan should not receive any countenance or support? Everything will depend upon the line of action taken by the Hon. Mr. Burlingame and his colleagues; and it is to be hoped that this opportunity may be seized of urging upon the Chinese the advantages which rapid communication must bring to the trade, prosperity and stability of the Empire. We do not think that any one will deny that the true policy for foreign Governments to adopt is to endeavor to induce the Chinese to admit the gradual introduction of European improvements. We lay stress upon the word gradual. We advocate no rapid and ill-considered changes; and place our faith in that motto, which of late has been so roughly handled, Festina lente. We would be the last to advocate rough riding over Chinese interests, and would even respect old ideas and prejudices so far as it may be judicious to do so. But it is imperative that the policy of foreign nations in China should march in step with the material progress which year after year is being made. It may appear to be almost a matter of indifference whether one time or another be chosen to demand additions to our means of trading, and of further ing our intercourse with the Chinese; but unless our privileges be actually on the retrograde, our trade must advance. Unless our authorities allow commerce to be shackled with illegal restrictions, that commerce here, as in every other part of the world, will increase in magnitude; and if concessions which our progress clearly points to as necessary, be not demanded and obtained from time to time, the pent up tide of civilization, which if unrestrained might by degrees have found its way in gentle streams, will at last burst the dams which have so long stayed its course, and sweep with irresistible force over the whole length and breadth of the land."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M., March 29, 1867.

Private dispatches quote gold in New York Wednesday evening at 134½ and sterling 109¾@109. Legal tenders are quoted at San Francisco at 74½ buying, and 75 selling.

The universal complaint among jobbers is that trade is still dull though all are hopeful of a revival within the coming month. Operations the past week have been very limited, consisting of small purchases of produce and light sales of staple goods and groceries for the interior valleys. The most notable event in jobbing circles was the arrival of a cargo of Island sugar per bark Kilkinburg, to McCraken, Merrill & Co. Previous to this arrival, the market was entirely bare of Island brands, and as a consequence the cargo went off briskly at full figures. The tendency of all grades of sugar and syrup, is upward.

The flour market is more hopeful? Recent advices from New York, giving returns on shipments by San Francisco houses of Oregon Imperial Extra, states that the lots were purchased by New York bakers at figures even with the best fancy brands of California. The practical tests of Oregon flour have already refuted the labored misrepresentations of the California press, to the effect that our flour is destitute of one of the essential qualities, gluten. The demand in New York for Oregon flour is already as great as for the famous Santa Clara brand of California. The result is that our flour is in good demand in San Francisco, at the following improved figures: Imperial at $5 75; McMinnville at $5 50; other brands at corresponding rates. The demand is mostly for export. Considerable shipments are lately being made to China.

The receipts of produce for the week ending Thursday, March 28th, were as follows: 5,702 bgs apples, 6,092 qr sks flour, 328 miscellaneous pkgs produce, 506 gunnies bacon, 41 hides, 3 sks dried fruit, 5 bxs eggs, 939 bags feed, 314 bags oats, 35 bales woolen goods, 62 gunnies potatoes, 4 sks seeds, 42 rolls leather, 10 bags barley 78 cases lard, 126 bags wheat.

DR. HENLEY'S Fountain of Life!

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARRIVE when a new direction is imparted to its course. Ideas pushed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more fatally and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might to-day be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting.

☞ Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge (made the—provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.
